Loreto Crumlin in the Oireachtas

Next Friday, 15th of November, Ifunanya Chukwuewuzie (5th year) will be participating in the inaugural RTE Youth Assembly on climate. The day long gathering is an opportunity for 157 young people from all 26 counties of the state to debate, discuss and determine their proposals for climate action. The Youth Assembly will be chaired by Ceann Comhairle, Sean O'Fearghail.

Two sessions taking place in the Dáil chamber will be televised live on RTE 2 and RTE News Now from 9:55am-10:35am and 1.40pm-2.35pm.

Meanwhile, Siofra Kildee-Doolan (4th yr) recently learned that she was successful in her application for a shadowing placement in the Oireachtas next March. She will spend a week in the corridors of power getting hands on experience of how politics at the highest level operates. Siofra attends DCU every Friday as part of a shadowing programme the university offers where she gets an opportunity to study Politics and Law.

First Years Team Building

On Tuesday afternoon, the first years took part in a fun and interactive session with their year group and the Ember team. The Ember team have been fantastic mentors for the 1st years and they organised activities and games with the year group to allow the students to work as part of a team. They also prepared a "Loreto school survival guide" to help students who are feeling worried or anxious.

A big thanks to Ms Killeen and the Ember team for organising a fun and interactive session with the girls.

Career Ready visit AIG

4th year and 5th year Career Ready students got an opportunity to visit the Dublin offices of AIG Insurance just before the mid-term break on October 23rd. They were there to participate in a workshop called “Skills to Succeed”.

Volunteers from the company gave up their time and experience to work with the girls on a range of activities during the day. It was another great opportunity that the Career Ready programme offers by allowing students to get real world experience of the world of business as part of their secondary education.
